Victrola Social

Tomorrow afternoon, at the beautiful home of the Hilliards, on the Eighty-Acre Tract, a social affair is to be held in aid of the School Victrola Fund. A considerable amount is still due on the machine and new records, and it is hoped that by a number of these events sufficient funds will be obtained to pay the indebtedness.

There will be refreshments and music, and for the children amusements and cake and chocolate. All who can are urged to attend, and help the good cause along.

Can You Save $1000?

Community Gathering Discusses Incorporation and Nominates Its Own Candidates

If any argument were necessary to further and promote sentiment in favor of the incorporation of Carmel, it was supplied in large measure by the enthusiastic multitude of men and women who crowded into Carmel Hall last Friday evening in response to a call for a mass meeting to nominate candidates for the various city offices.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Perry Newberry, who in a few well chosen remarks explained the purposes of the meeting, at the conclusion of which the meeting was placed in the hands of the people, and nominations for a permanent chairman were called for.

Mr. George F. Beardsley was placed in nomination by W. L. Overstreet and their being no other nominees, Mr. Beardsley took the chair, with Mr. C. O. Gould as secretary.

The chairman was well equipped to answer the many questions regarding various angles of the incorporation scheme.

It was clearly pointed out that the fact that the neck of land known as the south end peninsula being not included within the limits of incorporation in no manner whatever interferes with the benefits to be derived from incorporation.

It is the opinion of many that the boggy of excessive and unreasonable taxes, which is groundless, because the tax is limited by State law—prompts the bringing forward of the peninsula argument. It is the general belief that had this piece of territory been included the opponents of incorporation would have seized that fact upon which to base objection.

The particular business for which the mass meeting was called was then proceed with. Twenty-one candidates were placed in nomination for city trustee, of which the ten receiving the highest number of votes were put forward as the choice of the meeting, five of whom may be voted for on October 26.

There were also placed before the people two candidates each for city clerk and for city treasurer.

In addition to the list given herewith, voters may write in any name desired.

A Commendable Start

There was recently purchased from the Del Monte gallery a fine marine, painted a few months ago by William Ritschel. The buyer was the Museum Association of Sacramento, and the canvas will hang in the Crocker Art Gallery. It is the nucleus for a gallery of the works of modern painters.

In this picture the elemental grandeur of the coast scenery south of Carmel-by-the-Sea is strongly depicted—in the usual efficient Ritschel manner. The canvas is 50 by 60 inches, and is valued at $3000.

WEEKLY GREETING

Above all things, tell no untruth; no, not in trifles; the custom of it is naughty.—Sir Henry Sidney.

Strong Dry Argument

A set of tables taken from the United States census showing the relative increases in wage earners and in wages in the prohibition and license states, has been published. The fact is brought out that the prohibition states had an increase in the number of wage earners over 44 per cent greater than in the license states during the 10 years from 1899 to 1909. It also is shown that the volume of wages in the prohibition states increased 103 per cent in that time while the license states increased 61 per cent, a difference of over 68 per cent in favor of the prohibition states.

While the number of earners in the prohibition states increased 53 per cent, the volume of wages increased 103 per cent. In round numbers, therefore, half again as many men were making twice as much money at the end of the 10 years, while in the license states one-third again as many men were making once and two-thirds as much money.

This comparison is distinctly in favor of the prohibition states. The fact that the increase in number of earners of the prohibition over the license states is not as great in comparison as the comparative increase in wages bears out the contention, it is reasoned, that the wages per man increased more in the prohibition than in the license states. In those states, which are nearly and part prohibition, the increases are relatively the same.

Bear these facts in mind when you vote on the prohibition amendment next month.

If you read it in the Pine Cone, you may safely repeat it.

Delightful Musicale

By A Critic

A charming musicale was given by Mrs. Mabel Young at her home last Friday afternoon.

The program opened with the ever beautiful Beethoven Sonata, Op. 31, No. 2. Mrs. Young played this number without interruption, and gave an excellent and individual reading of each of the four movements. The Andante was especially enjoyed, and the last movement, Presto con fuoco, was played with brilliancy and fire, and was heartily applauded.

Then followed two numbers by Chopin: Spianato, played through out in a warm singing tone; and sharp contrast thereto, the difficult and brilliant Revolutionary Etude.

It is always a pleasure to hear a pianist-singer, or a singer-accompanist, and Mrs. Young displayed a pleasing artistry and versatility in the following vocal selections:

"Elegy," Massenet; "Shepherd Song," Godard; "Der Asra," Rubenstein; "Traume," Wagner.

The programme was followed by
