Everyone Should Turn Out

A week from tomorrow evening the people of Carmel will have an opportunity to renew old (novel) acquaintances.

Dickens has depicted in his books some of the most enduring characters in history, and it will be the aim of those portraying these personages to present a true and vivid conception of what Dickens meant.

Arts, and Crafts Hall should be crowded to the doors for this novel entertainment.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Laumeister arrived here from Palo Alto last week. They motored down.

"Dad" Hamilton was about town last week, looking none the worse from his watery experience.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shinn and family have taken one of Norwood cottages for a couple of months. The children have entered the public school.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ashley and Mrs. John Belknap of Detroit, Mich., are visiting Miss Eva Belle Adams and Miss Kate M. Miles.

After an absence of eight months in Pacific Grove, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Clifford have returned to Carmel. They are occupying the Hitchcock cottage, near the beach.

L. P. Narvaez, who has been quite ill, has sufficiently recovered to be out again.

Mrs. J. C. Shinn entertained at luncheon last Tuesday Miss Irene Conover of Pacific Grove and Miss Betty Waud of Carmel.

Among the first to engage a cottage here for the summer months is Mrs. J. G. Hooper. The family will occupy the old Harrison place.

The local public school has a new janitor. Manuel Pereira has quit his job.

Miss Herma Rupe, who has at various times sojourned here, is now residing in New York city.

The Basham family has removed to the Place cottage on Monte Verde street.

Miss Margaret Hageman, who has been a guest at the Waterbury home for several weeks, is extending her circle of acquaintances here, and will probably be induced to remain a while longer.

Bonnie Hale has departed for Glendale, Los Angeles Co., where she will probably attend high school.

The Chappells, here since before Christmas, and having completed the addition to their cottage, leave today for San Jose.

NEWS NOTES

The mail carrying between here and Monterey is still in the hands of Fred Wermouth.

A recent issue of the Salinas Index has an article by Miss Lida L. Hyatt, relating the history of Carmelo school, in the valley south of us.

"The best January business we have ever done," is the statement of several local shopkeepers.

You who read this: If you have a friend in the California Legislature, write him, requesting his support for the completion of the Coast highway from Carmel-by-the-Sea to San Luis Obispo.

In arranging for Carmel public entertainments of one kind or another, organizations have been careful to date their affairs so as not to conflict with mid-week religious services.

Children of Sunset school will be asked to contribute their pennies to the "Children of America Fund," to succor the starving children of war-torn Europe.

On Saturday evening last the members of the Manzanita Club and their friends inaugurated a whist tournament. Play takes place every two weeks and will continue until the last Saturday in March.

The Friday night gatherings at the Bawdin home in the Genthe cottage are popular. At these gatherings informal discussions on science, literature, economise, and art are held.

If Senator Rigdon succeeds in getting that $350,000 highway appropriation through for the beautiful coast scenic highway from Carmel to San Simeon, it will be the greatest thing for this section. — Pacific Grove Review.

Captain W. P. Evans has purchased a little Ford. He will conduct a parcel and errand delivery between here and points on the Monterey peninsula.

Regular monthly meeting of the Carmel-by-the-Sea trustees takes place Tuesday evening next.

Maybe the Vein Runs Under Your House

It is reported that recent investigations in the Point Lobos section, which has come into prominence lately owing to a rumor that the government desired to establish a national park there—have been rewarded by discoveries that point to the probability that large oil deposits exist on the Allen lands.

These investigations have been conducted quietly, and extreme reticence has been maintained in regard to their results. What has been learned has reached a point, however, where publicity could no longer be avoided, in view of development operations which are said to be ready to be launched.

A. M. Allen is reported to have given publicity to the matter.

If the stories of a number of other persons are to be believed, outcroppings of oil have been discovered along the ocean shore, at San Jose Creek, and at the Oliver and Hatton ranches, the oil being apparently from the same stratum.

Here for Work and Pleasure

Carmel's literary colony, constantly increasing and decreasing in number, has been augmented recently by the location here of Mrs. Julia C. La Barre of Seattle and Mrs. Elizabeth W. Genereaux of Portland, Oregon, both of whom have achieved a place on the roll of creative fame through years of wooing the fitful muse—Romance.

When interviewed a few days ago Mrs. La Barre, kindly and motherly, disclaimed having done anything "really startling or wonderful."

"My greatest achievement, as you term it," she remarked, has been to fit Shakespeare's comedies into rhyme in a manner calculated to catch the musical ear of the growing child. The verse of Shakespeare is beautiful, and all the more so because of its blank-verse construction. But I have found that nothing literary impresses a child more than the rhythmic jingle. That is why the Mother Goose rhymes are so popular."

Almost in direct antithesis to Mrs. La Barre is her author-sister, Mrs. Genereaux. She is a slender, wiry little woman, temperamental of face and with eyes of the romancer.

Her gift consists in the ability to construct allegorical plays and extravaganzas. Among her works are included a playlet entitled "Message of an Old-fashioned Nose-gay" and "The Revolt of the Toys."

Mrs. Genereaux and children have taken the Gray cottage for a year, and Mrs. La Barre will remain for a month or more.

Lewis Josselyn is here from Pasadena for a few days. In the early spring his mother will be here.

Miss Frieda Hauswirth has changed her plans. She will not go to India to teach the young mind how to shoot—at present. She goes to Berkeley instead.

The Monday afternoon dancing class for ladies, at Pine Inn, conducted by Miss Van Brower, are quite popular.

Mrs. N. Jorgensen, mother of Carmel's new city attorney, was laid to rest at San Jose on Monday.

Mrs. Mabel Young will be unable to give her musical tomorrow. Date will be announced.

E. M. Nix is going out of business. He will remove his stock to his store in that dear Pacific Grove.

La Playa Personals

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Witherbee, who have been at La Playa since October, left on Sunday for Sacramento. They will spend a few months South and visit the Yosemite and Grand Canyon, returning in the Fall for six months. Their presence will not only be keenly missed at La Playa, but among the townfolks as well, who were entertained by this charming couple.

Mrs. Vernon L. Kellogg and Jean left on Saturday for Palo Alto, but expect to return shortly for a longer stay. Mrs. Kellogg surely has earned a much needed rest after her strenuous experience in unhappy Belgium. Yet we desire to hear from her the details of conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McDuffie, Mrs. C. Woods, and Mr. Kahle, at Mrs. Signor's invitation, motored to Carmel Highlands last Sunday. All were enthusiastic over the wonderful possibilities of this scenic place. As Mr. McDuffie is one of the prominent land development men of California, he fully appreciates the enthusiasm and hard work of Mr. Devendorf.

Mr. Kahle has established himself for work at the Powers studio, retaining his living quarters at La Playa.

Recent registrations:

Mrs. Chas. M. Woods, Atherton; Duncan M. McDuffie, Berkeley; Mrs. Theodore Levy, Lloyd F. Levy, San Francisco.

Superintendent Schultzberg, of the county schools, is home from Sacramento, where he has been laboring in the interest of a measure to promote the growing movement for the consolidation of rural schools.

Interested in the Work for the Little City

The Carmel-by-the-Sea city trustees have certainly taken up the white man's burden. There were five Tuesdays in January, and a meeting was held on every one of them. And the members of the board do not confine their activities to Tuesdays either. They are on the job all the time.

The following matters came up for consideration at this week's afternoon session, presided over by Trustee G. F. Beardsley, in the absence of President Fraser.

Communications from Lou G. Hare and H. B. Fisher regarding the establishment of official grades, were read; no action taken.

Reply to request of Monterey County Water Works for permission to relay pipes on certain streets, deferred.

Figures were submitted by C. O. Gould for the repair of the roadway from Ocean avenue to the lower toll-gate leading to Pebble Beach; to be considered.

A committee report recommending the lease, for city office purposes, of the Wilson building, at the northwest corner of Ocean avenue and Dolores street, was favorably acted upon.

Ordinance No. 10, regulating the use of sidewalks, and No. 11, covering assessment and levy of taxes, were given their first reading.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Established February, 1915

Entered as second-class matter February 10, 1915, at the post office at Carmel, California, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Official Paper of the City

WEEKLY GREETING

It is a sad reflection that many men have hardly any religion at all; and most men have none of their own; for that which is the religion of their education and not of their judgment, is the religion of another and not theirs.—William Penn.

Out of Swaddling Clothes

Today's issue begins the third year of the Pine Cone's life. The two years that have gone have been healthy and profitable years. Never once, not even when the little publication was born, has the doctor been called in. All has been serene and we have joyed in our work.

Because of this success we do not pat ourselves on the back, and say "We did it." Without the loyal support, hearty cooperation and appreciative interest of the people of Carmel-by-the-Sea and other friends, the Pine Cone would long ere this have gone the way of many publications that "have come to stay."

Requests for copies of the paper, subscriptions and advertising have come from unexpected sources. Circulation is growing and with it advertising and printing. It will soon be necessary to make the paper larger; this we had in mind when the subscription price was raised to $1.50.

The policy of your paper will continue to be safe, sane and conservative.

We thank you.

If you read it in the Pine Cone, you may safely repeat it.

No Charge for This

Several Carmel merchants have called at the Pine Cone office to express their appreciation of this paper's efforts to induce our own people to trade in our own town. If our merchants will stock the goods and make the prices right, the people will respond.

School of Dramatic Art

On Thursday afternoon last Mrs. Sydney Yard read two delightful plays by Irish dramatists. The lightly ironical "Golden Doom," by Lord Dunsany was much appreciated, and the rapid wit and action of "The Canvans," by Lady Gregory were so well brought out by the reader that the audience was in continuous laughter.

Miss Eunice Gray, accompanied by Miss Marguerite Hughes, sang two numbers between the reading of the plays. Tea was served at the conclusion of the reading.

The music history club spent a profitable afternoon last week studying Mozart's life and compositions. Miss Jeanette Hoagland illustrated the study with piano selections from Mozart's Sonatas and the Fantasia in D Minor.

This week's subject was "Beethoven and the rise of the Romantic School."

The club meets on Wednesday afternoons at 4 o'clock. The dues are $1, and all who are interested in the literary side of music are invited to attend.

A soldier's reply to a Red Cross lady who enclosed her name in a pair of socks served to the man.

Thanks lady for the socks—some fit—

One I use for a hammock,

In the meantime—
Where in Hell did you learn

PAINT YOUR

Winter is here. Protect your Buildings and valuable contents against the coming storms. Where possible, your painting should be done before the rains begin.

A coat of paint applied now to the roofs—either prepared (sometimes called paper) shingles, galvanized iron or tin—of your house, barns, garage, or other buildings, will not only improve the general appearance of your place, but will add years to the life of your buildings.

PABCO PAINT

in three colors—Black, Red, and Green—is made expressly for roofs by THE PARAFFINE PAINT COMPANY, the largest manufacturers of preservative and waterproof paints in the West, and is the result of more than thirty years' experience in the manufacture of paints suitable for California climatic conditions.

See our window display of PABCO PAINTS, and let us show you how little it will cost to paint your roofs.

THE HANDY FARM PAINT

PABCO PAINT is a wonderful preservative for Water-troughs, Tanks, Silos, Irrigation Boxes, Wooden and Iron Flumes and Pipes, Steel or Wooden Fences, Building Foundations, and in fact, Metal or Wooden Surfaces of all kinds.

CHAS. DICKENS—BORN FEBRUARY, 1812.

Hero of the charmed pen,
Loved of children, loved of men,
We have felt thy spell for years;
Oft with laughter, oft with tears,
Thou hast touched the tenderest part
Of our inmost, hidden heart.

By each noble deed and word
That thy story books record,
And each noble sentiment
Dickens to the world hath lent,
By the effort thou has made
Truth and true reform to aid,
By thy hope of many's relief
Finally from want and grief,
By thy never failing trust
That the God of Love is just,
He would meet and welcome thee,
Preacher of humanity:
Welcome thrills the throbbing heart
Of the sympathetic West.

N. H. VENABLE.

"The Dickens Fellowship," a world-wide league founded in London in 1902, now numbers about 24,500 members. Its aims are to knit together, in a common bond of fellowship, lovers of that great master of pathos and humor, and to spread the love of humanity, which is the keynote of all his work.

They aim to cultivate the spirit of innocent festivity and mirth, of religion without bigotry, of charity without coldness, of universal philanthropy and human human kinship.—Condensed from the New York Times.

Watch Rigdon Get Even

The Sacramento correspondent of the Chronicle prints this little story about the busy statesman who represents us in the State Legislature:

This is Senator E. S. Rigdon's first time out in the patrioting game. Before he left that dear Cambria, a fair village in San Luis Obispo county, the Senator had the ingredients of several bills for the protection of the Kern oil fields tucked away in his suitcase. Just before leaving, the Senator told the home folks that he would introduce those bills or go down with the ship. Being new at the colon business, the Senator sought out Senator W. F. Chandler, the forensic freeman from Fresno, and asked his advise.

"Leave it to me," Rigdon says Chandler advised.

Rigdon did.

And the next week Senator Rigdon was paralyzed when Senator Chandler calmly arose and introduced the oil measures as his own.

Rigdon says this move lammed him where Lucille wore the lavalere.

"I don't think it was fair," remarked Senator Rigdon. "I wonder what my constituents will say after my promise to introduce those bills myself."
