

Neutrality is no longer feasible or desirable where the peace of the world is involved. We have seen the last of neutrality where peace and freedom are menaced by autocratic governments backed by organized war.—President's Message.

I advise that the Congress declare the recent course of the Imperial German Government to be in fact nothing less than war against the Government and people of the United States.—President's Message.

Ordinance to License Dogs is Adopted

From now until May 4, when the dog licensing ordinance goes into effect, there should be a lively sale of dog collars and chloroform in our fair city, and a consequent increase of revenue both for the municipality and the merchant.

This ordinance, as finally passed at last Tuesday night's monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees, stipulates an annual license of $1.50 for male dogs and $2 for female dogs. The complete text of the ordinance will be published in the April 12th Pine Cone.

City Attorney H. W. Jorgensen, who was present, was directed to prepare an ordinance

PERSONAL ITEMS

Pardow Hooper, Lee Young and Arthur Dunne, Lowell High School boys, and George Hooper, who is attending Healds, will return home Sunday, after two weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. Rask are now occupying the Beatty place at Pebble Beach, the Beattys and their guests having departed for their home at Flossmoor, Illinois.

Miss Tessie Tag of Palo Alto and Mr. Sydney Russell of New York spent last Sunday here.

Roy Newberry, the popular proprietor of Pine Inn, took a week-end business trip to San Francisco.

Mrs. J. A. Beck, with Mrs. Nellie Fairley and her son are spending this week in Carmel.

Miss Alice Miller and her nephew, Allan Knight, arrived from San Francisco on Saturday for a week's stay.

The Devendorf family are all together again here. Those who were absent in the city returned to Carmel early in the week.

Miss Mabel Kimball, Miss Bessie L. Cole and Miss Ida Fullager, all of the Garden City, are sojourning here.

Miss Adaline Gray of Los Altos is the guest of her sister at the Barnacle.

NEWS NOTES

Vote tomorrow! Polls open from 2 to 6 p. m., at the school-house. A trustee for the local school and two trustees for the Monterey Union High School are to be elected.

The last round of the Manzanita Club whist tournament will be played on Saturday evening. All those who have participated should be present as this session will determine the winners.

The Columbia Park Boys' Club, which has camped here several summers, may lose its property. The Hibernia Bank has instituted a foreclosure suit on the Guerrero street clubhouse lot in San Francisco.

Last Wednesday, by a single vote, the Rominger saloon-closing bill was defeated by just one vote. Senator E. S. Rigdon cast his vote for the measure.

Inquiries a-plenty are coming to the Pine Cone concerning the plans of the summer art school and of the school of music.

Editor Smith of the Pacific Grove Review has Mark Twain beat a city block for humor. He watches the Pine Cone like a hawk.

Walter Warren is here from Oakland. He expects to sail for Alaska about the 14th.

CLUB NOTES

By MISS I. A. JOHNSON

The Young Men's Club was entertained by Miss Eunice Gray on Saturday evening. Prof. H. B. Bawden gave an interesting talk on evolution, illustrated by charcoal drawings. This was followed by some informal questions, and after refreshments were served, the club adjourned for a moonlight stroll on the beach.

The Boy's Club had the most joyous time of the season on Monday evening, when their girl companions were invited to have an evening of games with them.

The rooms were aglow with poppies, and the faces of the boys and girls were aglow with anticipation. General games filled the time, the most popular and hilarious of which were "Saving things from a fire," "Jerusalem," "Geranium."

But the interest in games waned before the cake and ice cream furnished by generous friends, and after singing patriotic songs, the party broke up. Girls present:

Myrtle Arne, Betty and Alice Greene, Helen and Hilda Hilliard, Elizabeth and Marvan Hopper, Helen Hicks, Fay Murphy, Ruth Pudan, Phyllis Overstreet, Louise Prince, Jean Taylor, Marion Ohm.

NATURE SPOILERS

The article, by Virginia Ballen, printed below, appeared originally in the San Francisco Bulletin. A Carmel lady sent it to this paper, with the following note: "This was reprinted in the San Jose Mercury, under the department given to the Outdoor Art League. It seems to me opportune to reprint in the Pine Cone."

If the Yosemite or the Grand Canyon were cut up into small acreages and sold to individual grantees, the ordinary landholder would at once begin improvements. Brush would be cleared out, trees would be cut down, weeds would be burned swamps would be filled in, and rivers changed and polluted. And this without the excuse of agricultural necessity, but merely to jibe with the other imperfections of a country estate. Feather-duster plums would soon adorn the cap of El Capitan, eucalyptus trees would of course be planted along Bright Angel Trail, and the spineless cactus border the banks of the Merced. I use these trees and plants figuratively. They would not survive at the named places, to prove the refined taste of civilized man, but other atrocities better suited to the climate would.

And if Palm Canyon, that loveliest oasis in a light-painted desert, passed out of its present holding into the tampering hands of the ordinary land owner, who can doubt but that some kind of an Australian blue gum or Kamchatkan pines would not be planted speedily, to push aside the leaning trunk-thatched fan palms and dispute their picturesque and native right to the water holes.

The hand of man is an itching, destructive thing. The brain of man exercises itself upon the fair earth as the brain of a child wreaks havoc upon its toys. Nothing must stand as it stood before the advent of man's possession. The exquisite composition of the ages is torn apart so that he may crow over his balanced blocks, over the fences proclaiming his own crude arrangements.

He crosses the seas with a seed in his pocket to poke down into some utterly useless and uncalled-for setting—so his children can say: "My father planted this apple tree." It matters not to him that mango and breadfruit trees put the sickly apple to shame. The land has known his touch; he has put his mark upon it. No, the flourishing of a continental jungle is as naught compared to that one spindling tree which his hand has graced.

Because a twig pushed into the ground will grow, man feels himself potent to give life, or to take the life of vegetation. He feels he has the right of God to uproot, to blast and to set his own little sticks sprouting. He believes he feels like God when the new things root and bud—but he plays the very devil with the landscape.

What the beauty spoiler would do in the Yosemite, he is doing unchecked as yet, all over California. Everywhere he is destroying smaller though not less beautiful Grand Canyons, and messing over as perfectly finished, if humbler, Yosemite.

He is changing the distinctive aspect of our hills and dales into a hodge-podge exhibition of his own ignorance and conceit.

He burns off the coppiced chapparal—a rich and marvelous garden in itself, protecting rare lilies and loveliest flowers—"the little forests" creeping over the foothills, crouching knee to knee, leaning shoulder to shoulder, dwarfed, wine-brown bodied bough laced about bough, twisted, old, unique and world noted, if the landscape meddler but knew it. We have all seen how he tries to cover the scarred earth. What doesn't he plant out he bare knolls—rag-tags and bob-tails from other forests. Some dwarf trees very like the pink-belled manzanita he has uprooted, or the shreddy-barked, feathery flowered chamiso, but forlornly twining their arms about the empty air.

The sins of the man who thinks he can improve upon the Master hand of the universe would fill a book.

Faintly, very faintly, I hear the united voice of protest—always beginning on that low, peculiar note—unhurried because, it is going to grow. No sputterings or rantings—slowly increasing in strength—the mighty voice of reconstructive public opinion.

After all, the landscape meddler is a good sort—not for one moment is he aware of his paltry egotism. When the import of that voice reaches him he will be as zealous and as reverently endeavor to bring back and to preserve the natural beauty of California.

covering the matter of outside and local business licenses.

Permission was given Mrs. A. D. Signor to erect a sign at Ocean Ave. and Camino Real.

The matter of a flag for the City Hall was referred to Trustee Johnson.

The Commissioner of Streets will attend to the displaying of speed limit notices. This official will also see to the repair of road on Camino Real leading to La Playa.

Ordinance No. 13, relating to the moving of houses, the cutting of wires, and the injury of trees, was given its first reading.

Much of the time of the session was devoted to a discussion of the necessity of definite markings by survey and the establishment of grades. The matter is in charge of Trustee Beardsley.

WEEKLY GREETING

They who seek nothing but their own just liberty have always right to win it and keep it whenever they have power, be the voices never so numerous that oppose it.—Milton.

Those who, in the pleasant days of yore, looked to the New York Ledger for their weekly allowance of romance, poetry, and general literature, that is, when that paper had for regular contributors Henry Ward Beecher, James Parton, Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., Amy Leslie, Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth, the Cary sisters, and Mary Kyle Dallas, will no doubt be pleased to have the name of the latter brought back, after all these years, in association with that of James Whitcomb Riley, by one of his intimates that Riley's favorite poem was that written by his Ledger contributor, beginning with the verse:

He'd nothing but his violin,
I'd nothing but my song,
But we were wed when skies were blue
And summer days were long.
And when we waited by the hedge
The robins came and told
How they had dared to woo and win
When early spring was cold.
—Christian Science Monitor.

Brother Overstreet is stirring up a "Clean up Day" in Carmel. Seems like that Pine Cone man is trying to stir things up nearly all the time, an' its only about twelve months ago when they had a clean-up day. Well, we're glad we don't live in Carmel, where they want to be "cleaning up" all the time.—Pac. Grove Review.

The trenches or the movies for this disciple of uncleanness.

Our Weekly Recipe

SCOTCH POTATO SCONES

One cup mashed potatoes, 1½ cups flour, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg. Sift together the flour, salt and baking powder, add the potato, rub in the butter lightly with a fork, add the well-beaten egg and, if necessary, a little milk. Divide into two parts, roll each one inch thick, pie shape, cut twice to make four parts, and bake in a quick oven.

When done, split, butter well, and serve piping hot. These may be baked on a griddle.

Notice to TAXPAYERS

All taxpayers are required by the constitution to annually make and deliver to the Assessor a statement, under oath, setting forth specifically ALL the real, personal, or other class of property, owned by such persons, or in their possession, or under their control, as the same stands of record at 12 o'clock Meridian on the first Monday of March.

The Political Code provides, that all property must be assessed at its "full cash value," and defines "full cash value" as being "the amount at which the property would be taken in payment of a just debt from a solvent debtor."

Unsecured Personal Property

The taxes on all unsecured personal property are due and payable and must be paid at the time the assessment is made.

Exemptions

Any person or association, claiming any property to be exempt from taxation, MUST make the claim and affidavit, for such exemption, every year, in the manner provided by law. This applies to the $100 allowed on personal property of householders; the $1000 allowed soldiers, sailors, marines, etc., and property used solely and exclusively for religious worship.

Assessments

Any information desired relating to assessments will be gladly furnished on application, and all objections should be made before the Board of Equalization adjourns, instead of waiting until it is time to pay taxes.

Remember, that if you fail to make a statement you fail to comply with the law and you law yourself liable to arbitrary assessment, which is expensive to yourself and causes much trouble to others.

GEO. S. GOULD, Jr.

m8 tf County Assessor

Executor of Will of Mrs. E. E. Cobbe Appointed

A petition has been filed in the Superior Court asking for the probate of the will of Mrs. Edith E. Cobbe, who died here on February 27. The estate consists of property in Carmel-by-the-Sea and in Los Angeles, and also of promissory notes, stocks and bonds.

The estate is valued at approximately $40,000, the annual revenue from which is $2000.

Dr. J. R. Haynes of Los Angeles was named as executor without bonds. The heirs at law are two daughters—Miss Janet Cobbe of Palo Alto and Mrs. Maxwell of Lusk county, Ireland.

The Music History Club enjoyed an afternoon of music at the home of Mrs. F. E. Lloyd last week. Mrs. Lloyd has an exceptional library of victrola records. She contributed to the fine program a critical analysis of the great symphonies.

Baseball News

By DAD HAMILTON

The Carmel-by-the-Sea baseball team made its initial appearance this season against the Monterey boys last Sunday, and were routed to the tune of 15 to 0.

The Montereyans found the slants of Julius Wolters to be fat pickin's, and applied the wood to them hard and often, while the defense of the Custom-house boys kept the Carmel players away from the pan. Our boys are game losers, though, and will take another crack at their conquerors soon.

The feature of the game was the clean-up drive of Saunders that drove three tallies across the rubber.

Signed by 169 Carmel residents of Carmel-by-the-Sea, the following telegram was wired to President Wilson last Sunday:

Loving America not less but more, pledging anew our loyalty to American ideals and patriotism, bitterly opposed to declaration of war, and representing in part the vast silent majority trusting to you for leadership, we deary the growth of war spirit in our beloved land, and beg you, our President, elected because of apostleship of peace, to use your great chance and America's unsullied reputation to keep us out of this awful European war and at peace with ourselves and other nations. ### One Cannot Corner Advertising

In a broad sense, any means used to draw attention toward any purpose is advertising.

In commercial usage, the means is anything that secures publicity, and the purpose is to sell something.

The "something" may be an article, business, professional services, manual labor, skill, transportation facilities, etc.

Advertising may have the smallest beginning. If rightly conducted, it is bound to grow. It is as much for the little fellow as for the big corporation.

Add to your ability, your ambition, and your "something" Honest Advertising, and the Twentieth Century Giant will open your door to Success.

WEEKLY GREETING

Friendship must be something else than a society for mutual improvement—indeed, it must only be that by the way, and, to some extent, unconsciously.

EDITORIAL BRIEFS

The ordinary American is patient and long-suffering, but there are few who will just now tolerate for long the disrespectful and sneering manner in which certain aliens and peace-at-any-price persons in Carmel refer to our President and our institutions.

Where is Carmel Highlands? a number of recent visitors here have asked. Answer: It is on the Coast Road, about two miles south of Pt. Lobos.

Some announcement is about due as to the summer plans of Carmel's two dramatic organizations. The only definite information at hand is that Perry Newberry is to be the producer of the Forest Theatre Society's offerings.

During the last two weeks the gatherings at the local Postoffice at mail-distribution time made it appear that we were already in the midst of summer. Carmel is surely becoming a year-round resort.

Edgar Watson Howe, the Kansas philosopher and humorist, has recently come to the little-town man, and in no uncertain terms. "I never visit a country town," he says, "that I do not meet men whose lives afford a lesson or an inspiration." Surely, the small town has its big men, just as the large town has its small men. In neither case is it the size of the town that calls for attention, when considering the size of the men.

The Civil War began April 10, 1861.

Notice to TAXPAYERS

All taxpayers are required by the constitution to annually make and deliver to the Assessor a statement, under oath, setting forth specifically ALL the real, personal, or other class of property, owned by such persons, or in their possession, or under their control, as the same stands of record at 12 o'clock Meridian on the first Monday of March.

The Political Code provides, that all property must be assessed at its "full cash value," and defines "full cash value" as being "the amount at which the property would be taken in payment of a just debt from a solvent debtor."

Unsecured Personal Property

The taxes on all unsecured personal property are due and payable and must be paid at the time the assessment is made.

Exemptions

Any person or association, claiming any property to be exempt from taxation, MUST make the claim and affidavit, for such exemption, every year, in the manner provided by law. This applies to the $100 allowed on personal property of householders; the $1000 allowed soldiers, sailors, marines, etc., and property used solely and exclusively for religious worship.

Assessments

Any information desired relating to assessments will be gladly furnished on application, and all objections should be made before the Board of Equalization adjourns, instead of waiting until it is time to pay taxes.

Gratitude

Paris, France,
February 3, 1917.

Secretary Red Cross,
Carmel-by-the-Sea, Cal.
Madam: It is my duty to write to you and send you all my thanks for what you have done for my little girl.
Never shall we know how to acknowledge all that the Americans have done for these poor little orphans at this sad time, when the war has made so much unhappiness. How long will it still last?

We hope that we shall soon come to the end of this terrible warfare, the cause of all these misfortunes, and that we shall come out of it victorious.

It is now two years since I lost my husband, at the end of typhoid fever, contracted at the front. I can say that he was a brave soldier, and that he loved his country. After his death I received a letter from his captain, telling me that he was upon the point of proposing him to the rank of adjutant as a reward for his bravery and good conduct under fire.

This will not bring him back to me, but I am proud of it. He was very good to me and he would have done everything for his children. Now it is necessary for me to ask for work and health to bring up my two children. As for courage, I have it, and it is necessary.

I promise to give you news of your little protegee from time to time, Please receive, Madam, my sincere thanks, the expression of my deep gratitude.

WIDOW LA MOULLEE.

Homes on Carmel River

Bert Dubois and Mike Silva are having summer cottages erected for themselves at Camp Steffani on the Carmel river. The country where the new vacation quarters are being built is near the picturesque Carmel river in the scenic Carmel valley. The distance from Salinas is about 23 miles.

Besides the new "cabin homes" in process of building, there are nine others already built ready for summer occupancy. Among those who own the summertime homes are Messrs. Jansen, Alexander, Smith, Muller, White, Madeira, and Dr. Austin.—Salinas Index.

News From La Playa

Mrs. John A. Lathrop, a well-known writer and lecturer of New York, who, with her husband is connected with the American City Magazine, is now in Los Angeles for a short visit before returning to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weihe spent the week-end with Mrs. Weihe and Mrs. B. W. Stone.

Col. E. Parrott, 87 years old, visiting his daughter, Mrs. Parrott Gorringer, is, with the exception of a slight deafness, as active as a man of 60.

La Playa was the first public building to fly the stars and stripes.
Camino Real is evidently carrying the honors, every occupied house displaying old glory.

Mrs. Plunkett is rejoicing over the arrival of her daughter, Mrs. M.
R. Church from New York, accompanied by Miss Louise and a school chum. The party will occupy the Gates cottage for a year.

CARMEL ASTONISHED BY MERCHANT'S STORY

A merchant relates the following:
"For years I could not sleep without turning every hour. Whatever I ate caused gas and sourness. Also had stomach catarrh. ONE SPOONFUL buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka relieved me IN-STANTLY." Because Adler-i-ka flushes the ENTIRE alimentary tract it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICK-EST action of anything we ever sold.
