City Trustees Meet

Like Banquo's ghost, the matter of an official municipal ground survey will not down. It bobs up at every meeting of the Carmel city trustees and between meetings as well. The work will have to be done. Many contemplated improvements are held in abeyance because property owners want to know "where they're at" before going ahead. No definite action was taken, however, at last week's meeting of the board.

The garbage ordinance, up for final passage, was held over for further discussion.

Marshal Englund reported collection of $74.50 for dog licenses.

Trustee Peter Taylor was appointed to look into the matter of securing and establishing a camp site for summer vacationers.

By unanimous vote of the board Captain W. P. Evans was elected City Recorder, to succeed H. L. Warren, resigned.

Bills aggregating $331.72, were approved.

"The Toad" Will Hop Again at the Forest Theatre

Carmel-by-the-Sea Forest Theatre, for nine months of the year a quiet grove of pines and live oak, again re-sounds with the blow of hammer and the resonant shout of rehearsing actors. Stage platforms, scenery and properties are being constructed by a force of volunteers, with R. Austin James, A. Vachell, William T. Kibbler, M. DeNeale Morgan, Daniel Willard and Perry Newberry, all veterans with tool or paint brush, at the labor, and twice a day, afternoon and evening, scenes in the two plays are enacted by members of the casts.

The necessary and usual preliminary changes in the casts are being made, and the resultant harmony of teamwork is shown in each day's rehearsal.

The leading lady in "A Thousand Years Ago" will be Miss Katherine Cooke, as Miss Devendorf has been offered a professional engagement with the Bishop Stock Company at Oakland, and is now playing at the Bishop Theatre. The balance of the cast is as follows:

"THOUSAND YEARS AGO" CAST
 Turandot, Princess of Pekin - Katharine Cooke
 Altoum, Emperor of China - Frederick R. Bechdolt
 Zelima, a slave - Alice MacDougal
 Calaf, Prince of Astrakhan - Ernest Schweninger
 Barak, his servitor, Horton Denny
 Chang, a slave, William T. Kibbler
 Scaramouche - Pardow Hooper
 Punchinello - Harold Cash
 Harlequin - Joseph Von Ende
 Capocomico - John T. Gribuer

Miss Grace Wickham will have the direction of the Oriental dances in "A Thousand Years Ago," and is preparing twenty young ladies of Carmel to give two effective Chinese dances.

"The Blue Bird" dances will be staged by Miss Jeanette Hoagland, with a score or more of stars and dewdrops, fireflies and will-o'-the-wisps, hours and houris. The cast of "The Blue Bird" is as follows:

BLUE BIRD CAST

Tytyl	Dana Newberry
Mytyl	Marion Ohm
Fairy Berylune, Alice MacDougal	Neighbor Berlingot
Dog	Charys Boke
Cat	Katharine Cooke
Fire	Jeanette Hoagland

Blue Children—George Aucourt, Franklin Murphy, Alice Pepper, Fay Murphy, Alue Weaver, Anne Greene, Dorothy Gray, Sydney Gray, Gaetens Britt, Carmelita Pepper, Lilla Greene, Henry Pudan, Richard Boke, Tommy Pudan.

"The Toad" will be the Arts and Crafts play to be given at the Forest Theater July 28. At the last meeting of the organization it was decided to ask Perry Newberry to attempt the task of getting together the entire original cast of 1912, and put on the play with the same people and an exact—or as nearly as possible, exact—reproduction of scenery, costumes and incidentals of the summer play of five years ago. As if fortune favored this repetition, nearly every member of the original cast is in Carmel this summer, or within easy reach of Carmel, even down to the supers.

Young Writers Being Developed in Carmel

The judges of the Sunset School compositions, Mrs. Mary E. Hand, Mrs. Paul Prince and Perry Newberry, have completed their labors. The compositions printed below have been selected by a majority vote. Every composition has much merit, and it may be that the Pine Cone will, from time to time publish the five others.

BY HILDA HILLIARD

The Carmel coast for six or seven miles down is one of the most famous places for artists. They come from all over the world to paint pictures there, and the most famous of them all is Mr. William Ritschel.

Mr. Ritschel paints only ocean views. He is one of the world's three most famous marine painters. They are Winslow Homer, Dougherty, and William Ritschel.

Mr. Ritschel's career is typical of the one that is expected to be told of men who achieve success in the art of life.

He was the son of a poor Bavarian farmer and a French mother. When he was old enough for military service he was drafted into the German Navy. He voyaged for four years to all parts of the world. In this way he learned to love the sea, and it was on these ships he did his first marine painting. Some of the officers took an interest in him and helped him in many ways. After he left the naval service he studied art in Germany and France, and then came to the United States.

He had no money but managed to earn a small living by painting clothing advertisements. In the meantime he kept steadily at work at a series of pictures which he sent to the exhibitions until he won the Carnegie medal at Pittsburg. This was the turning point in his career. After that he kept on steadily until he held the first place among marine painters.

The coast below Carmel is the most wonderful stretch of marine he has ever seen, and others say the same. The colors of the Pacific are nowhere else to be found. The blue, which we have before our eyes every day of the year, he says, is a stronger and a more paintable blue than the Mediterranean.

Every Sunday, when he is down the coast, his studio is open to visitors. Some Sundays he has more than thirty people come, and people from outside come just to see his pictures.

In the winter, after he has finished his work down the coast, he takes his pictures to New York for exhibition.

His greatest success has been the pictures of the Carmel coast. He loves the Pacific better than any other place. He has traveled all over the earth, even above the Arctic Circle, in search of subjects to paint, but he says of the Carmel coast that it is the biggest thing he has ever found.

BY ANDREW GILLET

The Carmel Boys' Club was started by two prominent women of Carmel, Miss Johnson and Miss Culbertson.

Soon after it was started we elected officers, a president, vice-president and secretary. We decided to have the meeting every Monday night unless voted otherwise, and have the meeting begin at seven o'clock and end at nine o'clock.

When the boys come we play games until eight o'clock, when we have the business meeting. The president calls the meeting to order and has the minutes read, and the business discussed. Then Miss Johnson or Miss Culbertson reads and the refreshments are served. At nine o'clock the meeting adjourns.

The last few months we have been helping the Red Cross by cutting rags and paper for pillows. This time is taken from our games, so we have only a little time for them now.

We have had several hikes around Carmel. Mr. Josselyn is our leader. The first hike we had was not very long, but every time we have one it is longer than the last. The longest we have had yet was climbing up Mt. Devendorf, one of the highest mountains near Carmel. All that had cameras took them.

We had a fine view of everything, the ocean, Monterey, Pacific Grove and Del Monte. This mountain is about two thousand feet high. It took us about three hours to climb. We ate our lunch on the top of it. There was a small stream near the mountain, and when we were coming back some of the boys went in wading.

The boys one time suggested we have a party and invite the girls. Miss Johnson said we could, as soon as she had her plans laid out. The days went fast and soon it was the night of the party. Each boy brought a girl. We played games by twos and threes until all had come, then we played games altogether. The refreshments were served and we went home at 9:30. All the girls and boys said they had a fine time. During Miss Johnson's and Miss Culbertson's absence the boys have had the club at their homes.

All the boys in the club appreciate what Miss Johnson and Miss Culbertson have done for us. They have taught us thrift, helped us in our manners, taught us to be observing, and last but not least have given us many a fine time.

News From La Playa

The musicale last Wednesday was thoroughly enjoyed by La Playa guests. Mr. Weinbridge, contributed a number of well-rendered selections. Miss Peirce, daughter of Prof. George Peirce, is a violinist of great promise.

Mr. and Mrs. William Olney and daughter Florence occupied the Wilson bungalow for the week-end.

Helen Anna Butler, weight ten pounds, arrived June 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butler. Mr. Butler is an employee of La Playa. Dr. J. E. Beck was the first to greet the youngster.

Mr. Teller, who is fond of fishing, motored to the Sur on Friday, and returned on Sunday. Much to his regret, he found no one to accompany him.

Red Cross War Fund

The finance committee has held one meeting in Carmel and has attended two meetings at Salinas. Last Tuesday's meeting at Salinas was for the purpose of districting the county and appointing team captains in those centers which have no Red Cross organization.

The Red Cross War Fund Council has apportioned the sum of $25,000 to be raised by this county. The county organization, which will include the finance committees of all the chapters and auxiliaries, should be completed shortly, so as to begin promptly the campaign work on June 18 to 25.

The Carmel committee of five has been enlarged by the addition of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Prince and Mrs. E. K. De Sabla.

The next issue of this paper will find this committee in the midst of this great campaign for "Civilized Military Relief."

So long as the struggle in Europe was for power, our President kept us out; now that it has assumed the broader issue of world freedom from the dominance of the few, we are in it, and, with Mr. Britting, "we are going to see it through." Also, as Mr. Chester Rowell put it, "we are going to pay as we go," and not leave it for our children to shoulder the load. To that end end we "are going to tax ourselves unequally but justly."

Don't button up your pocket—wear the bottom out digging.

Some member of this committee is coming after you between the 18th and 25th for sure:

Mrs. Paul Prince
Mrs. E. K. De Sabla
Mrs. G. F. Beardsley
W. T. Kibbler
A. Vachell
G. F. Beardsley
Paul Prince.

The last-named gentleman will be at the Carmel City Hall from 2 to 5 each week day during the campaign week.

CELEBRATE!

In the press of other affairs and attractions, in normal peace times, small communities may forego without question a patriotic celebration of Independence Day.

But at this time of all times,
when our country is at war, no American community, large or small, is in any manner justified in neglecting or foregoing an adequate and whole-hearted patriotic celebration of the Fourth of July.

While certain recent events have demonstrated that there are in Carmel some who are disloyal—because those who are not for the government, are against it—there are plenty of those who are loyal. Let these see that a proper observance of the day is arranged for in Carmel.

Keep the fires of patriotism burning.

Posters Wanted

It's for the Red Cross.
It will be Carmel publicity.
You may win a $250 lot.

Three good reason for every artist in Carmel to submit a Red Cross poster.

In a letter to Mrs. F. H.
Powers, Robert W. Scott, of the Pacific Division of the Red Cross, writes:

"Would it not be possible for those men and women of Carmel who are possessed of artistic talent, to devise some attractive posters? We should be glad to have these for use in the States of Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada and Arizona, and those with sufficient appeal would undoubtedly be used throughout the United States."

Unique Social Event

Last Saturday afternoon's neighborhood Garden Fete and Patio Tea was a success.

When the history of the Carmel Chapter of the Red Cross is written, as it surely will be, not the least interesting portion of it will be that devoted to a detailed account of the varied and unique methods employed to obtain funds to carry on the work of the organization.

But to return to the garden fete.

It was an affair as full of pleasant surprises as it was unique. Being for the benefit of the Red Cross, many went to the affair primarily as a matter of duty.

The surprised folks were those who were unaware of the fact that within the confines of Carmel there existed such beautiful and extensive gardens.

To Miss M. Louise Hutchinson belongs the credit for conceiving the scheme. Her first lieutenant was William P. Silva, who skillfully planned (and planted) the garden in which were exhibited such marvelous creations as "Coast Oakra,"
"Monterey Pineapple," "Carmel Pine Cone"—Overstreet variety, which produces a crop every week;
"Western Onion," "Collard" (linen),
"Elihu Root," by the author of "Root Hog, or Die," and the
"Can-On," milk producing plant, discovered by Dr. W. L. Cannon of the Carnegie Institution.

Paintings by artists of Carmel, among them canvases by Eva Be.le Adams, I. A. Johnson, M. DeNeale
Morgan, J. M. Culbertson, Laura Maxwell, W. P. Silva, A. Vachell,
J. E. Walker, and W. C. Watts, were shown in Carmelita Gallery.

Tea and conversation flowed freely in the sheltered patios of the Silva and Hutchinson homes, and

Pine Needles

Couldn't have selected a better day. El Nido Tea Room at Carmel Highlands opens for business today. This is Flag Day.

Prof. William Carey Jones and family are here for the summer.

Mrs. Opal Heron and children are home from southern California. Herbert Heron will be here in August.

Many automobilists are complaining that overloaded wood wagons, dropping pieces of wood on the Carmel-Monterey road, menace their safety.

Mrs. Theodore Criley and children are occupying the Dr. Harrison house for an indefinite period.

Next Sunday, June 17, is the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Among the splendid paintings being shown at the Eleventh Annual Exhibition of Selected Paintings by American Artists, in Buffalo, there are two by artists now in Carmel—"At the Foot of the Cliffs," by William Ritschel, and "At the Docks," by Jonas Lie.

Mrs. Colin Anderson, whose husband died here recently, with Miss Mabel G. Anderson, is preparing to depart shortly for Roseville, Cal., where they will make their home.

Mrs. Shirley Williamson and son David are here for a few weeks' stay, but will return in August for an extended visit.

Mrs. L. D. Schaffer and her family have taken one of the Clappett houses for July.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank all the friends who showed so much appreciation of the life of one dear to us, and those who did so much to comfort us when he was taken from us to go to the better world beyond.

Do not fail to hear the lecture next Sunday evening, at the Carmel Church, by Miss Charlotte Adams, on the work of the Young Women's Christian Association. Miss Adams is Director of Biblical Studies in the Y. W. C. A. National Training School, and is here because she is a member of the teaching faculty at the Asilomar Conference.

The Pine Cone has a well equipped job printing plant. Prices are fair.

The total number of men between 21 and 31 years old who registered June 5, is 2723, and is in excess of the number estimated.

The Spadoni family arrived here Friday for a seven weeks' stay.

Jack Gribner is on deck, ready to give the best that is in him toward the success of the Forest Theatre plays.

Mrs. Florence Gordon Hall will spend all this month in her cozy cottage here.

Miss Stella C. Danielson departed on Saturday morning for Los Angeles, to spend the vacation with her mother.
